This document consists of a typewritten report, giving German steel markings for various types of steel and the corresponding Russian markings. This information is based on a study on steel markings, made by Engineer Dr Kuentscher of the Hennigsdorf Steel and Rolling Mill. In this study a number of German steel markings are given, as well as their corresponding Russian steel markings.

Page two and three of this document list the two corresponding types of steel markings, while the other two pages of the document give some information on the grouping of Russian steel types, abbreviations used for certain types of steel, and some specifications regarding the chemical composition and the properties of certain steel types.
